Risk Warning: Past performance is not indicative of future results. Our investment management services relate to a variety of investments, each of which can fluctuate in value. The value of portfolios we manage may fall as well as rise, and the investor may not get back the full amount originally invested. The investment risks vary between different types of instruments. For example, for investments involving exposure to a currency other than that in which the portfolio is denominated, changes in the rate of exchange may cause the value of investments, and consequently the value of the portfolio, to go up or down. In the case of a higher volatility portfolio the loss on realization or cancellation may be very high (including total loss of investment), as the value of such an investment may fall suddenly and substantially. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the merits and risks involved. Disclaimer: Unless otherwise noted, all information contained herein is sourced from BPI AIA* internal data. Market Commentary

Asian equities ended the month in the green as returns across Asian markets were positive. China and Taiwan appreciated the most, while Thailand and Singapore appreciated the least. During the month, China recouped much of its losses from January as the Lunar New Year holidays were a surprise, with both credit and travel data beating expectations. The ongoing optimism around AI and positive quarterly results boosted the IT sector in Taiwan. Conversely, Thailand was affected by a drop in manufacturing activity and deflation. In Singapore, CPI fell amid lower services and food inflation.
