BPI-Philam Peso Bond Fund Market Commentary

Domestic fixed income investments have performed well in January 2025, with the BPI GS Money Market Index up 0.62%. This was due to steady income from bonds and falling yields, as people expect the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) to cut rates in February after the Philippine economy grew slower than expected in the last quarter of 2024. The economy grew by 5.2%, which was below expectations, partly due to multiple typhoons. Inflation rose to 2.9% in December, driven by higher vegetable prices, utility costs, and transport expenses. The BSP is expected to cut the policy rates by a total of 0.5% (50 basis points) in 2025.

Risk Warning: Past performance is not indicative of future results. Our investment management services relate to a variety of investments, each of which can fluctuate in value. The value of portfolios we manage may fall as well as rise, and the investor may not get back the full amount originally invested. The investment risks vary between different types of instruments. For example, for investments involving exposure to a currency other than that in which the portfolio is denominated, changes in the rate of exchange may cause the value of investments, and consequently the value of the portfolio, to go up or down. In the case of a higher volatility portfolio the loss on realization or cancellation may be very high (including total loss of investment), as the value of such an investment may fall suddenly and substantially. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the merits and risks involved. Disclaimer: Unless otherwise noted, all information contained herein is sourced from BPI AIA* internal data.
