BPI – Philam US Dollar Bond Fund 2 Market Commentary

The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) Philippines lost 1.18% in August as Philippine dollar-denominated bonds tracked US Treasuries.

Global bonds had another volatile month amid a raft of mostly strong US economic data which fueled speculation of hawkish actions from the Federal Reserve. Payroll figures for the month of July came in at 187,000, slightly lower than consensus expectation of 200,000 but still high. Meanwhile, headline inflation (CPI) rose by 3.2% year-on-year in July driven by higher food and energy prices. Minutes of the last Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting held July were also released and revealed that committee members remained wary of price pressures, leaving the door open for further hikes as needed. Consequently, the 10-year US Treasury benchmark yield spiked to as high as 4.34% mid-month before ending 15 basis points higher month-on-month at 4.11%.

In the local space, inflation for the month of July dropped to 4.7% year-on-year from the 5.4% print in June. The figure was once again below market expectations (consensus estimate: 4.9% YoY) and was brought about by receding supply-side pressures. Meanwhile, Philippine GDP data largely disappointed, growing just 4.3% year-on-year for the second quarter of the year versus consensus expectation of 6.0%. This marked the lowest expansion since 2011 with all major sectors of the economy exhibiting a slowdown. Following these economic data releases, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) kept its overnight benchmark rate steady during its Monetary Policy meeting held mid-month. The BSP likewise noted that it would remain vigilant of its inflation target and stood ready to adjust policy rates as necessary moving forward.

Risk Warning: Past performance is not indicative of future results. Our investment management services relate to a variety of investments, each of which can fluctuate in value. The value of portfolios we manage may fall as well as rise, and the investor may not get back the full amount originally invested. The investment risks vary between different types of instruments. For example, for investments involving exposure to a currency other than that in which the portfolio is denominated, changes in the rate of exchange may cause the value of investments, and consequently the value of the portfolio, to go up or down. In the case of a higher volatility portfolio the loss on realization or cancellation may be very high (including total loss of investment), as the value of such an investment may fall suddenly and substantially. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the merits and risks involved. Disclaimer: Unless otherwise noted, all information contained herein is sourced from BPI AIA* internal data.
